(d) Institutional Challenges

- Attracting and retaining students from remote or economically weaker sections.
- Adapting to rapid technological changes in education.
- Meeting accreditation standards (NAAC, NIRF) with limited resources.
- Ensuring employability in a competitive job market.

We need an institutional development plan for the next Five years, which will consolidate the gains made so far and truly put into practice the Motto of our institution. In the changing social context, women's role is changing from the boundaries of their homes they have stepped into a world that promises economic independence. This requires women to be equipped not with degree but also other skills. We believe knowledge, being the key to the future, must deploy a range of weapons from technology to good faculty. We must also ensure that it is accessible, affordable and allow the student to evolve into a responsible, sensitive and tolerant citizen, proud of her roots, yet willing to embrace and meet the challenges of tomorrow. Keeping in mind the above, the future plans have been drawn and definite goals are set.
